Product overview

The 221ª Legione CC.NN. Fasci Italiani all'Estero ribbon is a historical service ribbon issued by the Kingdom of Italy to personnel who served in the 221ª Legione of the Milizia Volontaria per la Sicurezza Nazionale (MVSN) during World War II. It is intended for collectors, historians, reenactors, and military surplus retailers looking for authentic period insignia.

Definition: A black service ribbon representing service in the 221ª Legione CC.NN., available in flat or slightly domed (Elite) finishes. This ribbon works well for uniform displays, tactical collections, and duty or police historic exhibits.

Main features

Simple, historically accurate ribbon options with practical mounting choices for display or uniform use.

- Authentic appearance: Entirely black ribbon matching the original style.
- Two finish options: Regular flat or slightly domed "Elite" version.
- Mounting choices: Can be fitted to a ribbon bar holder with clamp or screw attachments (selectable at purchase).
- Durable construction: Made from sturdy materials for long-term display or wear.
- Compatible with multi-seat holders: Suitable for two-or-more position ribbon bars that mount several ribbons on a single metal base.
- Limited availability: Low stock levels make it a sought-after item for collectors of military surplus and historic insignia.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the ribbon mounted on a suitable portanastrini (ribbon bar) for uniform display, museum exhibits, or private collections. Choose the flat or Elite finish based on the look you prefer; select clamp or screw attachments for the mounting method you need.

Quick answer: Fit the ribbon into a ribbon bar holder using the selected clamp or screws. In most cases, choose a multi-seat metal base if you plan to display multiple ribbons together.

Care and notes

Keep the ribbon clean and store it dry to preserve its appearance and structure. Handle as a historical item and check mounting fittings before wear or display.

- Avoid prolonged exposure to direct sunlight and moisture.
- Check clamp or screw fittings periodically to prevent loosening or damage.
- Availability is limited—orders may be subject to stock and restock timing.
- Be mindful of the ribbon’s historical context when displaying in public or official settings.

FAQ

Q: What is the size of the ribbon?

A: The ribbon is available in a standard flat format and a slightly domed "Elite" format. Exact physical dimensions follow standard ribbon-bar sizing.

Q: How do I mount the ribbon?

A: Mount it on a ribbon bar holder using either a clamp attachment or screw fittings. Select the preferred attachment type when ordering.

Q: Can I buy these in larger quantities?

A: Bulk purchases are possible but subject to current stock. Limited availability may affect larger orders, so check stock before placing a large order.

Q: Is this ribbon suitable for all uniforms?

A: The plain black design is versatile and can be used on many uniform displays, collections, and historical duty presentations. Verify regulations for official uniform use in your organization.

Q: What is the historical significance of this ribbon?

A: It denotes service in the 221ª Legione of the MVSN during World War II and is a historical emblem of that service.

Q: Can the ribbon be combined with other ribbons on the same bar?

A: Yes, it is suitable for two-or-more position ribbon bars that hold multiple ribbons on a single metal base. Ensure correct spacing and secure mounting.

Tip: Choose the flat or Elite finish and the correct attachment (clamp or screws) before adding to cart, and consider browsing related ribbon bars and mountings to complete your display or collection.
