How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: Wear it as an identification patch on approved uniforms or keep it as part of a military insignia collection. It serves both practical duty use and collector display.

In most cases, members of the Arma dei Carabinieri will wear this patch during overseas missions as a unit mark; verified collectors may purchase after license verification. Follow the uniform rules or collection guidelines that apply to your use.

Care and notes

Keep the patch clean and store flat to preserve embroidery. Sales and use are subject to the original restrictions and approval requirements.

- Do not alter the official design; customization is not permitted.
- Sale is reserved to Carabinieri personnel; collectors must send a copy of the prefectoral license (art. 28 TULPS).
- Typical shipping: product is dispatched within 5–7 business days after license approval.
- Limited stock—orders may be delayed if demand is high.

FAQ

Q: Who can purchase the Scudetto GIS Carabinieri per Missioni all'Estero?

A: The patch is reserved for members of the Arma dei Carabinieri. Verified collectors may purchase by submitting a prefectoral license as required by art. 28 TULPS.

Q: What does the patch depict and what is its purpose?

A: It shows the Carabinieri grenade above a gradio with open parachute wings and the Italian tricolour. It is used as a unit insignia for overseas missions and as a collectible item.

Q: What are the patch dimensions?

A: The patch is round and produced to the standard diameter commonly used for military patches. Exact measurements follow standard military patch sizing.

Q: Can I customize or personalize the Scudetto?

A: No. The design is standard and cannot be personalized or modified to preserve its official appearance and meaning.
