Product overview

The Brevetto Metallo Abilitazione al Lancio is a metal parachute jump qualification badge intended for military personnel qualified for the "Lancio senza stella" parachute jump and for civilians who collect or display military insignia. Definition: this is a metal badge worn on the ordinary uniform by armed forces members who earned the parachute jump qualification.

It is a durable, professional-looking badge suited to military surplus, tactical collectors, duty or police memorabilia. Available in two sizes and a glossy uniform variant with rear screws, it balances visibility with a discreet profile.

Main features

Clear design and practical options make this badge easy to wear and identify.

- Distinctive design: parachute with cords converging between two stylized open wings.
- Material: made of sturdy metal for long-lasting wear and a professional finish.
- Standard size: 7.7 cm (width) x 3.6 cm (height), visible yet low-profile on the uniform.
- Shirt size: reduced format 4.2 cm (width) x 2.1 cm (height) for dress shirts.
- Variant: glossy ordinary-uniform version with rear screws for secure mounting.
- Limited availability: produced in restricted quantities due to demand.

How to use / When it’s useful

Wear the Brevetto Metallo Abilitazione al Lancio on the ordinary uniform as the regulations of your service allow. Choose the smaller shirt size for dress shirts and the larger size or screw-mounted glossy variant for outer uniforms.

Quick answer: use the standard 7.7 x 3.6 cm badge on uniforms, and the 4.2 x 2.1 cm badge on shirts.
In most cases, service members wear the badge according to their unit dress code; civilians may buy it as a commemorative or collector's item but should not use it to imply active qualification.

Care and notes

Maintain the badge with light care to preserve finish and fixings.

- Clean gently with a soft cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners.
- Check rear fastenings (screws or pins) regularly to ensure secure attachment.
- Store in a dry place to prevent tarnish or corrosion.
- Intended for awarded personnel; civilians can purchase as a collectible but must respect official wear rules.

FAQ

Q: What are the exact dimensions of the badge?

A: The standard badge measures 7.7 cm (width) x 3.6 cm (height). A smaller shirt format is available at 4.2 cm x 2.1 cm.

Q: Is there more than one variant of the badge?

A: Yes. There is a standard metal badge and a glossy ordinary-uniform variant with rear screws for secure mounting. The smaller size is intended for shirts.

Q: What does the design represent?

A: The design shows a parachute whose cords converge between two stylized open wings, symbolizing parachute capability, freedom and resolve associated with airborne personnel.

Q: Who is authorized to wear the Brevetto Metallo Abilitazione al Lancio?

A: It is awarded to personnel qualified for the "Lancio senza stella" parachute jump. Civilians may purchase the badge as a commemorative item but should not wear it as an official qualification.

Q: How do I attach the badge to a uniform?

A: The standard badge uses the mounting method appropriate to its version; the glossy ordinary-uniform variant includes rear screws for firm attachment. Follow your unit dress regulations for placement.

Q: Is this badge durable for regular use?

A: Yes, it is made of durable metal and designed for regular wear. Regular cleaning and checking fastenings will help maintain its appearance and secure fit.

Tip: Choose the size and mounting variant that match your uniform or display preference—standard 7.7 x 3.6 cm for outer uniforms or 4.2 x 2.1 cm for shirts—and consider browsing related military surplus and tactical insignia to complete your collection.
